

Jonathan Ball

Agassiz

there was a lake here once we at its bottom, unborn sometimes the rivers flood water claws at the city singing, come back,

come to me, i want you